Baseball, softball, tennis Spring sports gearing up for new season

Monday, weather brought all three spring sports to their respective fields/ courts to get a kick start on the new season.

In the above photo, tennis coaches Leslie Brown and Tammy Denney spent the first part of their practice conditioning in order to build up stamina and get the players in shape to prevent injury through out the year.

In the photo right, Clinton County Senior pitcher Jonathan Branham worked with Senior catcher Travis Garmon Monday. Head Coach Patrick Stalcup will take the reigns this season for his second year as head baseball coach. Stalcup almost has a full field this season. As soon as basketball is concluded, several other players will be able to take

Thompson said his girls have been working all winter on fundamentals and could be ready to play inside this week. He also said this year looks to be a promising year.

Official practice for all three sports began on February 15.

Health insurance increase has county searching for more financial answers

The projected county employee health insur- during a year. ance rates, coupled with still more questions than answers about the new federal health care laws, often referred to as "Obama Care", has put members of the Clinton County Fiscal Court in a position of having to explore "all options" prior to the current health plan expiring at the end of March.

Judge/Executive Lyle Huff and the entire fiscal court were braced to hear negative news about the new proposed health insurance rates at its February meeting last week, and the news given by their insurance representatives, Grady Wilson and Marcy Johnson, with the county's current provider, Bluegrass Family Health, in fact estimated the increase in rates for the next year would be 49 percent.

Both Wilson and Johnson concurred that a major reason for the much higher than expected increase was due mostly to a handful of "major" claims paid out by the company--with four claims alone totaling over $285,000, and that was just over the first nine-month period of the one-year policy. Those cases, Johnson added, involved cancer patients or individuals with cardiovascular problems.

The county has around 55 total employees (including a few family members) covered under the change' program that individuals can opt into, but insurance plan and it was noted that in all cases of group insurance, about 20 percent of those covered use about 80 percent of the total premiums paid out See HEALTH, page 5

Wilson said the expected average increase in rates is about 14 percent, a figure that most court members were expecting to hear.

Both magistrates, Ricky Craig and Patty Guinn, said they had never heard of such an increase, but Johnson also said the situation may even be worse next year (when the 2014 renewal comes up.)

Wilson told the court that even if they had kept Anthem insurance, the results would have been the same. He said the unexpected high payouts coincided with the time the county switched to Bluegrass Family to provide the insurance to its em-

Several questions then arose about Obama Care and the effects it may have, not only on Clinton County, but all county governments and business-

Some questions pertained to whether or not it would be cheaper on counties or small business to simply not offer employee health insurance and pay the per employee penalties that are attached to the new health care laws.

The new health care bill will also have an 'exstill there seems to be more questions than answers

Tornado Safety Drill scheduled for next Tuesday

Clinton County will participate in the statewide Tornado Safety Drill on Tuesday, March 5 at approximately 9:07 a.m. Central Time. Outdoor warning sirens will be activated in communities across the state and in Albany/Clinton County as part of the exercise. The county's emergency alert notification system will also be activated.

The drill is scheduled in conjunction with Severe Weather Awareness Month in Kentucky. During the test alert, all Kentuckians, businesses, hospitals, nursing homes, schools, and government agencies are encouraged to participate and practice their tornado safety drill and update their

Jail, Wellness Center among 'hot topics' at court meeting

Clinton County Fiscal Court costs related to either closing the discussed some "hot topic" issues that involve finances in one form or another at a call meeting last Wednesday morning, February 20. The meeting, with all members present, was moved up a day from the regularly scheduled February 21 date.

The court took up the seemingly ongoing issue of county employee health insurance, and a separate article on that issue can be found beginning on page 1 of this week's Clinton County

Following a lengthy discussion on health insurance issues, the court discussed issues pertaining to the local jail, as one item of business on the agenda was to have been a presentation from a Department of Corrections official. That address was the result of a feasibility study on jail costs. However, Judge/ Executive Lyle Huff said the study wasn't complete last week and would be presented at a later date.

ment to show specifically the cheaper on the county.

facility and transporting inmates to other facilities, compared to costs of keeping the jail open.

When the matter on the agenda arose, Magistrate Mickey Riddle said that he and two other magistrates had traveled to area counties to find out the costs they would charge the county for housing local inmates if the local jail were closed. He said currently the county is spending up to $600,000 annually to keep the jail in operation and the cost may be cut significantly if local inmates are housed elsewhere.

Currently, there are only three other life-safety jails, outside of Clinton County, that is operating in the state. Riddle said, "We need to get our feet set now or we'll be running all over the Magistrate Ricky Craig said, "I know there are local people that work here (at the jail) but we can't keep providing $600,000 a year to keep it open.'

Some magistrates mentioned Late last year, then-magistrate that Casey County was willing to Larry Hatfield had requested a house local inmates, if necessary, feasibility study from the depart- and inferred it would be much

Judge Huff, who is a proponent of keeping the jail open, said that if the jail were to close, the other counties which say they would take inmates now may not carry through and "then what are you going to do?" he asked.

Huff said that once the feasibility study is complete and ready to be presented, he would call a special meeting on the matter. No further action was taken last week.

Judge Huff also touched on the most recent Wellness Center financial problems, informing magistrates that it is the county's and city's responsibility to see the facility is kept open through

The original one million dollar state grant carries the stipulations and the judge showed a letter from Lynsey-Womack-Denney, Legal Counsel with the Department of Local Government (DLG), addressing questions he (Huff) had asked about. That question was whether or not Clinton County would be required to maintain and operate the Wellness Center should they

"Thousands Of Unsaved Preachers" Let's Go Soul Winning

By the late Dr. Jack Hyles You know, there is a field of unsaved people that is rarely ever touched, and that is the preachers. I'm afraid preachers rarely ever hear a soul winner speak to them. You say, "Now wait a minute. Did I read that correctly?" Did you say that you ought to witness and try to win souls among the preachers?" That's what I said! There are hundreds of thousands of ministers around this world who have never been born again! There are hundreds of thousands of them that don't even believe in the new birth! There are tens of thousands of them that don't believe the Bible is the Word of God. There are tens of thousands of them, God pity them, that don't believe that Jesus is God's virgin-born Son. For many years now, I have witnessed to every preacher I could, if I could tell he was a preacher. For example, if I see a fellow dressed in a clerical garb, and if he is not busy, I walk up to him and I always ask this question, "You are a minister, aren't you?"

He says, "Yes." Of course, he can't tell I'm one because I dress like an ordinary person.

Then I say, "Could I ask you to do me a favor, please?"

"Could you tell me how to go to Heaven?" I've done that in motel lobbies across the country. I know I do it at least once a month. I have never yet, in all these six or seven years of witnessing to preachers, had one whom I could tell was a preacher, who could tell me how to go to Heaven. Some say, "You've got to love God." Others say, "You've got to work in the church." Somebody else says, "You've got to keep the sacraments." Not one single one of them has told me that you can be saved by being born again by the Spirit of God, by the grace of God through faith in Jesus Christ and trusting His work on Calvary. Not a one!

You say, "Have you ever won any of them?" Yes, I have won a few, One of our members came to me the other day after having heard me speak on this line. He told me a beautiful and sweet story.

He had seen a man who had on the clerical garb and the cloth of a minister. This church member of mine went up to him and said,

'Could you tell me something?'

"Are you a minister?"

Yes, I am. What can I do for you?

"Could you tell me, please, how I can go to Heaven when I die?" The minister almost got the palsy.

He said, "Well ..." and stuttered awhile.

Finally our member said, "Do you know?"

He said, "I just can't put it into words."

Our member said, "Would you like for me to put it into words?" He told the minister about Jesus' dying for him on the cross. Whether or not the fellow was sincere, I do not know, but this I do know, he bowed his head and prayed the sinner's prayer and said he was receiving Jesus Christ.

You see, nobody can be saved unless he believes the Bible. Nobody can be saved who doesn't believe the virgin birth of Christ, Nobody can be saved who believes you go to Heaven by earning it. We ought to take the opportunity to spread the Gospel to all men everywhere - the clergy as well as the laity.

Let's go soul winning this week!

One hundred years ago, the American Cancer Society began the fight of a lifetime – the fight against cancer. Now it's time to join together to finish the fight

After 100 years of saving lives and creating more birthdays, we're leading the way in helping transform cancer from deadly to treatable and from treatable to preventable.

Today, two out of three people diagnosed with cancer are surviving (for at least five years). In fact, more than 400 people a day in the US are celebrating birthdays that would have otherwise been lost to the disease.

* We've contributed to a 20 percent decline in cancer death rates in the US since the early 1990s. That means we've helped save nearly 1.2 million lives during that time.

* We've played a role in nearly every cancer research breakthrough in recent history.

* Each year, we help cancer patients everywhere get the help they need when they need it. Last year alone we assisted more than a million people who called us for help, providing free services like a place to stay while traveling for treatment, rides to treatment, emotional support, and much more.

* Our work has helped lead to a 50 percent drop in smoking since the 1960s, which has contributed to a drop in overall lung cancer death rates. Now is the time to finish the fight. Make some noise by taking

Weight loss diets

Source: Jackie Walters,

UK Extension Specialist, Nutrition Education Program The holidays have passed, a new year has begun, and swim suit season is just around the corner. With weight loss aspirations come questions about the newest diets and best ways to lose weight in time for spring weddings or summer vacation. The number of fad diets and quick trick weight loss schemes circulating on the internet, television and in magazines is enough to boggle the mind. While some of these diet approaches may help an individual lose weight, they do not necessarily leave the person well-nourished and healthier. How does one recognize a fad diet? Remember the

Foods with Super Powers

Foods with super powers promise that the consumption of a certain food or group of foods will help burn calories.

The problem: No known food burns calories. The only way to burn calories is through physical activity or body processes.

Anything You Want to Eat Except...

These diets allow an individual to eat as much as they want of all their favorite foods but require them to cut out a certain food group. An example of this would be the diet that allows a person to eat everything except carbohydrates. Some diets also do the opposite of this, requiring dieters to cut out all foods except one specific food group. An example of this is a diet which restricts someone to eating only fruit.

The problem: These types of diet changes can leave an individual deficient in specific nutrients.

These are the diets that an individual finds themselves restarting every few months because they have regained the weight they lost. The problem: Fad diets are well known for quick weight loss that is very hard to maintain because of the low number of calories allowed per day and boredom associated with very limited food of those suffering from chronic diseases, such as diabetes or cardiovascular disease.

The problem: Chronic diseases can be profoundly affected by diets that alter nutrients such as fat, sodium and carbohydrates. For example, some diets promote consumption of prepared meals or supplements which may be high in sodium. This could cause serious problems for a dieter with high blood pressure. Diets which severely limit or eliminate carbohydrates would interfere with a diabetic's ability to regulate their blood glucose.

Inflexible Menu

Some diets set strict guidelines for certain foods that must be eaten at specific times throughout the day.

The problem: These diets can only be maintained for a short time, as most people's work and social schedules do not permit such rigid eating plans.

Exercise Is Optional

Many diets promise that weight loss can be achieved by making a few easy adjustments in diet or taking a particular supplement.

The problem: In order to lose weight, calories used must exceed calories eaten. Physical activity uses up calories, promoting weight loss. It also speeds up metabolism, so that the body processes more calories. Other benefits of physical activity include regulation of cholesterol, blood pressure and blood glucose, toning of muscles, and stress reduction.

Too Good to Be True

If a diet seems too good to be true, it probably is.

The problem: Before and after weight loss pictures in advertisements most likely are not representative of most dieters results. Even if the pictures are accurate representations of an that due to the economic effects individual using that diet, it is impossible to know if the weight loss a 49 percent hike will bring, as come off the group plan, enroll was sustained. A diet which achieves rapid loss of large amounts of weight most likely does not supply the nutrients needed for good health and will be difficult to maintain.

Speedy Weight Loss

These diets promise incredible results in a matter of a few weeks. The problem: Weight loss in excess of two pounds per week is difficult to maintain. Very low calorie diets can be dangerous and should only be attempted when prescribed and monitored by a physician to address urgent health concerns.

Although the promises of fad diets can be enticing, the safest and most effective way to lose weight and maintain weight loss is through a balanced diet and physical activity. Visit www.ChooseMyPlate. gov to determine an eating pattern that is best for your gender, age and activity level. An individual can lose one pound per week by using 500 more calories per day than he eats. Thus, weight loss may be achieved by eating fewer calories, burning more calories, or using a combination of both approaches. Simple lifestyle changes, sustained over time, allow for gradual loss of weight and improved health that is easy to maintain for years to come.

RUSSELL COUNTY NEWS-REGISTER Russell Springs

Russell County has seen a rash of applications for concealed carry permits (concealed deadly weapons) in recent months, and a trend that has been increasing over the past couple of years, according to clerks with the Russell County Sheriff's Department.

According to statistics pro-Metcalfe County Fiscal Court vided by Lisa Whittle of the sheriff's office, there have been 104 conceal carry permit applications since January 1 of this year. This compares to a total of 91 new permit applications Soon every chair was taken and for all of 2011, with a significant people were lining up along the increase in 2012 of a total of 214

Projected out for the entirety there was definitely something of 2013, if the current rate of applications continue, there will be over 750 new applications for a conceal carry permit of a deadly weapon in Russell County. The office was reluctant to speculate on the causes in increase in applications, but noted that women began applying more after a violent event in the county last year and that it seemed another surge began after the recent uptick in school shootings throughout the country in the past few months.

She noted that recently a family of six all received their conceal carry permit.

Sheriff Lee Smith said that the office has not received any increases in calls relating to or involving weapons but that his office has been recently receiving calls to stand against any federal attempts to limit gun ownership.

"I'm a law enforcement officer, not a law maker, and it is my job to enforce the laws that are made," said Smith. "As far as a position on guns, I really don't have one," he said, but clarifying he absolutely supports the second amendment.

"I have my guns and I love my guns as much as anybody, but it still doesn't change the position I'm in," Smith said.

People are the ones who have ponents of firearms pursuant to the power to make changes in the law through putting pressure on their representatives, Smith said.

Smith said he didn't foresee any problems with the number of conceal carry permits but that everyone must follow the laws as to how, when and where you can carry a concealed weapon.

"Since the law went into efor future ordinance would be fect the people have been able to carry concealed weapons, I've not seen any change," Smith

Dawgs fall in district finals

Joe Davis hit one of his four three pointers in the first half against Russell County in the 16th District Finals. Clinton County lost the game, 74-65. Davis finished with 12 points.

Clinton County's game plan worked like a charm during the first quarter of Thursday night's 16th District Championship against Russell County.

The Bulldogs' Keifer Dalton opened the game scoring the first eight points for the Dawgs, grabbing a two point lead, 8-6.

Russell County then hit a three pointer to move up by one point, but then Clinton County went on a war path from the three point line, along with a field goal to put the Dawgs up by 10 points, 19-9 with 2:30 remaining in the Russell County finally added two points to the board to cut the lead to eight, but a basket by Colby Langford put the Dawgs ahead by 10 again, 21-11.

With 50 seconds left on the clock in the first quarter, Russell County had cut the lead to six before Frank England made a field goal to close out the quarter, 23-16.

During the second quarter, Russell County started chipping away at the Bulldogs' lead.

the period, put the lead to four points, 23-19, but England answered with a field goal for a 25-A 4-0 run by Russell County cut the Dawgs' lead to two points with 5:26 on the clock. Dalton, who finished with a game high 27 points, hit a field goal to extend the Dawgs' lead, 27-23.

Claywell hit a three pointer for a 30-25 lead, making the Dawgs a perfect six of six from the three point line thus far.

With 2:59 remaining in the half, Russell County took the lead away from the Dawgs, 31-30, but two free throws from Claywell gave the Dawgs back the lead, 32-31.

Langford added to the lead by making one of two from the line, 33-31, but Russell County tied the game on a field goal with 1:30 showing on the clock, 33-

With 50 seconds on the clock, both teams tied at 35, the Dawgs were able to get the final shot of the half off, but was off the mark.

Russell County came out in the second half and quickly took control of the game.

The Lakers started off with a three point play to take a three regional tournament with an 18point lead, 38-35.

Dalton went to the line for two shots, making one, to cut the County was: dogs with 7:01 on the clock.

Russell County moved up by four points, while Clinton County's three stopped falling.

With the Lakers now up by six points with 4:00 on the clock, England cut the lead to four on a field goal, followed by a basket by Dalton, 42-40. The Lakers' next trip down the floor saw Clinton County go down by five points after a three pointer was made, but a drive and layup by Dalton cut that lead down to three points with 3:20 remaining in the period, 45-42.

Russell County scored again to extend its lead late in the third quarter, but a 4-0 run by the Dawgs cut the lead to only one point, 47-46.

At the 1:30 mark, Russell County hit a three pointer and with 45 seconds remaining, Clinton County took a big hit as Langford was called for his fourth foul.

Dalton went to the line with A three point play early in 44 seconds on the clock and made only one of two to trail, 50-47. Russell County closed out the quarter by hitting a field goal and to take a five point lead after three quarters, 52-47.

Russell County opened the fourth quarter by scoring 7-4 for an eight point lead, 59-51, with 5:13 on the clock.

With 3:35 remaining, and With 4:32 on the clock, Lance Clinton County trailing, 59-53, Langford drew his fifth foul, which took out an inside presence for the Dawgs for the remainder of the game.

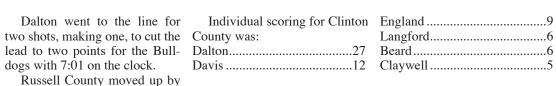

> Clinton County couldn't catch back up to the red hot Lakers in the final quarter and ended the game with a nine point loss, 74-65.

From the floor, Clinton County hit 13 of 32 for 40 percent, nine of 16 from the three point line for 56 percent and hit 12 of 21 from the free throw line for 57 percent.

For the game, Clinton County only committed nine turnovers.

Water temperatures have a lot to do with where you'll find stripers at this time of the year."

A rising lake level is a major factor that could influence striper behavior and benefit anglers in the upcoming weeks.

when necessary, don't you? One of those hell-bent-for-leather dives into a pile of opponents to wrestle possession of a basketball at the eleventh hour. Or, take ownership of a crucial rebound, or make a pressure foul shot.

But Alex Poythress? Chance of seeing a get-on-the-floor loose ball from this one-and-done projector, looked dim. In fact, the light bulb above Poythress' head has seemed a few wats short.

Then came the Missouri game. Number 22 was on the floor, running 94 feet and on the rebound boards too. Baseline drives, follow shots, foul shots. Poythress had numbers 21 points, seven rebounds, two assists and five dives-on-the-floor.

Who knew?

GOOD MINUTES SPOILED?

Kentucky's season-saver(?) win over Missouri last week was a gem. Gave added heft to John Calipari's claim: "See, fellas, this is what you guys can do together!"

The Wildcats had their win over a quality opponent and quality numbers too. 90 points, 50.9 percent shooting, four double-figure scorers, 16 assists, nine blocked shots, and Archie Goodwin stopped pouting and Alex Poythress showed up.

Kentucky had its awful moments too - allowed run free lay-ups; Willie Cauley-Stein still can't make foul shots; and Goodwin's seven turnovers are still unacceptable.

For now, Kentucky climbed back into Big Dance conversa-Love a good blue collar scrum tion without the tiresome "last and Middle Tennessee at home four out" baloney.

45 minutes spoiled? How could a platinum performance at Rupp Arena have a spoil factor? Unless you were one of 24,380 fans inside, ESPN forced you to use the mute but-

Dick Vitale, even at a barely audible rasp, was as annoying as ever. Kentuckians had an entertaining blue collar game to watch, one at a brisk pace, with possession-by-possession drama and camera look-ins at Calipari on the sideline.

Alas, behind the microphone, flailing along behind the action and describing the obvious too late, was Vitale.

Was a good 45 minutes spoiled. Unless, you had a remote in hand.

Epilogue. Since Jim Valvano gave him a cause and ESPN gave him a microphone, Vitale has done noble things, used his bully pulpit to crusade for cancer research.

But fans deserve intelligible game analysis with sparkle. ESPN sentimental attachment to Vitale has no relevance out here. Vitale should be retired.

STEP UP TIME

In Louisville, Bowling Green and Murray it's step up time.

√ The Cardinals are in ideal position to not only earn a Big Dance number one seed, but prime themselves for a big mo run – Syracuse, Cincinnati, Notre Dame and the Big East Tournament.

√ Murray's Racers are almost certainly headed to the NIT. Only if Belmont falls in the OVC Tournament, and Eastern Kentucky also, can the one-bid OVC send Murray to the Dance.

Tourney time in Kentucky - part 2

And the thinning process continues among the ranks of Kentucky High School basketball teams.

District tournament competitions from Murray to Morehead and Paducah to Pikeville were held last week in Kentucky High Schools, and for many of those schools - including one here in Clinton County - that process brought to an end the roundball season

Our Lady Bulldogs saw their season come to a close last Tuesday night in Burkesville when they fell victim to the Lady Hornets of Metcalfe County in opening round action.

While we're here - congratulations are in order for our Lady Dawgs this season as well as to Coach Darrell Thompson and his staff on the strides this young club made between the opening game and last week's District Tournament. At the start of the year, they were a group of young girls struggling to come together as a team and by last Tuesday night, they had developed into a contender.

You can't ask for more than that, and with the youth this year's Lady Dawgs had with only one senior - good things are ahead again - mark it down. In boys' play, as we reported last week, the Bulldogs headed into last week's championship game Thursday after the opening round victory over Metcalfe County, facing a very strong, mature, athletic and big Laker team from Russell County. A battle to the end, our Dawgs eventually lost that championship game, picked up a 16th District Runner-up trophy, then moved on to this week's 4th Regional Tournament in Bowling Green. Congrats also to the Dawgs and Coach Todd

Messer on a great season and that Runner-up finish. It's not what you were hoping for, but you put up a great effort Thursday night, lost to a formidable opponent and you were still practicing and playing this week - something that by now, the majority of the teams were not doing. The Dawgs played in Tuesday night's opening

Green - a game the was played too late for this week's Semi finals for the boys' 4th are slated for Friday round of the 4th Region Tournament in Bowling night, with the championship game to be played Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

Mixed in between those boys games are the girls' 4th Region action, which begins at Barren County High Wednesday and Thursday and finishes up at WKU for the semis and finals next Monday and Tuesday. Our 16th District is represented by champions Russell County and runners-up Metcalfe.

Of course from here, we head into next week's Sweet 16, beginning with the boys' play in Rupp Arena that gets underway Wednesday March 6, and for the first time since the stone age - sees a championship game held on Sunday.

I'll be interested to see if the KHSAA actually gives out true attendance numbers for Sunday's championship game, or instead gives out the listing for the number of tickets sold, which will not be a fair representation of the attendance. For instance - it better be a very good matchup, or I'm positive the Gibson vehicle will already be on it's way home by Sunday afternoon - with two paid tickets in tow, and that will be the first championship game we've missed in many, many years!

Still - it's the best time of year for Kentucky High School basketball fans as we try to squeeze in every possible game before that dreaded gameless stretch between March and December.

It's tourney time in Kentucky - don't call me un-

House Bill 7, the first bill to pass both chambers and be signed into law by the Governor, authorizes six of the state's eight public universities to bond $363 million for 11 specific projects, including construction of a new Honors College and International Center at Western Kentucky University, a new science building at the University of Kentucky, and improvements to Commonwealth Stadium, among other projects.

The measure requires the bonds to be paid for by the universities and not with state tax dollars. This bill will help the universities with much needed classroom and housing improvements and while providing over 5,000 construction jobs.

As an added measure of protection for college students, the Senate inserted a stipulation that the universities could not raise tuition in order to repay the debt. Passage of this bill is a perfect example of bipartisan governing.

In addition to helping our public universities, the Senate also focused on providing assistance to our high-school students with its passage of Senate Bills 109 and 97.

Senate Bill 109 would permit high school juniors and seniors to use their Kentucky Education Excellence Scholarship (KEES) awards early to pay for dual credit courses.

Senate Bill 97 is aimed at helping more students graduate from high school by giving local school districts the option to increase the dropout age from 16 to 18, provided they have the funds and approved alternative programs to meet the needs of these students. These types of measures give Kentucky's students a better chance

Another bill designed to help our young adults is Senate Bill 72 This measure seeks to save Kentucky lives by mandating suicide prevention training for professional counselors, therapists, social workers, and other mental health professionals. This much-needed training will assist mental health professionals in recognizing the early warning signs of suicide, a leading cause of death among

The Senate passed two pieces of legislation on Friday, Senate Bill 39 and Senate Bill 40, which would allow the legislature to weigh in on the implementation of key parts of the Affordable Care Act (also referred to as "Obamacare").

The implementation of this federal legislation stands to have a costly, state-wide impact, particularly due to the expansion of the state's Medicaid program to approximately 400,000 new individuals. Senate Bill 39 would provide that any expansion of Medicaid must be approved by the General Assembly. Likewise, Senate Bill 40 would require the General Assembly to approve the creation of any state-run health benefits exchange. These bills are designed to ensure that these decisions are not made solely by the Governor. Instead, these bills would allow deliberation by the entire legislature in order to put the best and most cost-effective policies and programs in place for the citizens of the Commonwealth. Please do not hesitate to contact me about any legislative issues

The response stated that, 'Clinton County and the City of Albany are legally obligated by the terms and conditions of the CDBG (Community Development Block Grant) to ensure the operation...until at least June 8, 2016. Failure to do so would most likely require the County and the City to repay the entire $1,000,000 grant to the Department of Local Government." The grant ensures that all residents in Clinton County, a 53.3 percent low and moderate-income community, have access to the Wellness Center, for a period of no less than five years from the date of the project closeout. Those provisions, according to the DLG legal counsel, requires the city and county to ensure the operation and continued eligibility of the Center for the five-year period, or through June 8, 2016. The options listed by Lynsey Womack-Denney was, "provide the additional funding necessary for the Center to continue operations," "operate the Center under an alternative agreement as long as the aforementioned requirements are met," or return the $1 million in grant funds.

Some court members questioned why no one from the Wellness Center board was at last week's meeting and also implied they needed to give some answers to the questions surrounding their financial status.

No official action was taken at last week's meeting. However, following the meeting, Judge Huff said he was considering asking for a "joint" meeting between the fiscal court, Albany City Council and Twin Lakes Family Wellness Center Board in an attempt to get some answers and work on solutions. Letter to the editor

To the editor, As I feed my dogs individually, each one sits or stands off to the side waiting as patiently as possible. Each has a trust, a faith, no matter how hungry, that his or her turn is coming soon. If I should skip one, and go on to the next usual eater, the one skipped would step forward. He or she would look up into my face with such a look, as if saying, "Are you sure you didn't forget me? I'm right here waiting for you."

I know this because of my experience. It has happened. My pets have a strong belief that their time will come before all is over and done. But their experience tells them to remind me. They know I'm just a human.

There are times I find myself asking God, "Are you sure you didn't forget me? I'm right here waiting for you." I feel like God has left me off to the side, left me all alone again, and I don't know what to do or think.

As the years go by, those thoughts don't last hardly as long as when I first started growing in my faith. Experiences in the school called life have taught me there will be those times of feeling alone and not understanding what's going on.

This life is also a series of steps to take. Like going down a stairway-we can't skip even birth to walking. There's a lot of crawling to do.

God gave each of us free will. each of us. We use that free will to make decisions every day of each life. If we make a wrong as well as our own. My pets pick and follow. know what happens if somebody breaks the line, makes a bad decision. It can look like a football game gone wild. The fella at the bottom of the pile-up can come through it, but not without some

My pets know better than to go around blaming God for their injuries. Their trouble was the result of a few seconds decision reached with no thought of what was going to happen. Some steps were skipped. Not enough crawling and growing going on.

Look before you leap would one step. A baby can't go from be a good idea. Keep the faith. Get some feedback from God as you listen, after you have prayed. Trust God enough to stay out It came with the life God gave of those rough, gone wild, football games. Let it go. Trust God enough to let you know what not to do-as well as do. God is the move, it can affect a lot of lives best life coach you could ever

Jackson holds 'open house' at the White House March 4, 1829

On this day in 1829, Andrew Jackson upholds an inaugural tradition begun by Thomas Jefferson and hosts an open house at the White House.

After Jackson's swearing-in ceremony and address to Congress, the new president returned to the White House to meet and greet a flock of politicians, celebrities and citizens. Very shortly, the crowd swelled to more than 20,000 turning the usually dignified White House into a boisterous mob scene. Some guests stood on furniture in muddy shoes while others rummaged through rooms looking for the president, breaking dishes, crystal and grinding food into the carpet along the way. White House staff reported the carpets smelled of cheese for months after the party. In an attempt to draw party goers out of the building, servants set up washtubs full of juice and whiskey on the White House lawn.

The White House open-house tradition continued until several assassination attempts heightened security concerns. The trend ended in 1885 when Grover Cleveland became president and opted instead to host a parade, which he viewed in safety from a grandstand set up in front of the White House.

David Buick dies

March 5, 1929

David Dunbar Buick, the founder of the Buick Motor Company, dies on this day in 1929 in relative obscurity and meager circumstances at the age of 74. In 1908, Buick's company became the foundation for the General Motors Corporation. However, by that time, David Buick had sold his interest in the company.

Buick was born in Scotland in 1854 and moved with his family to Detroit, Michigan as a child. As a young man, he worked in the plumbing industry and developed, among other inventions, a successful process for bonding porcelain enamel to cast-iron bathtubs. During the 1890s, Buick became interested in automobiles and the gasoline internal combustion engine. In 1903, he founded the Buick Motor Company. The following year, William Durant, a titan of the horse-drawn carriage industry, invested in Buick's company, which by then was located in Flint, Michigan. That same year, the company made a total of 37 autos, known as the Model B. By 1906, Buick had lost control of the business and sold his stock, which would later be worth millions of dollars. Two years later, in 1908, Durant made the Buick firm the cornerstone of his newly formed holding company, General Motors. Durant soon acquired Cadillac and Oldsmobile, among other car companies. In 1923, Buick built its one millionth vehicle. The Buick brand would play a key role in General Motors' rise to become the world's largest automaker by the early 1930s, a title held until 2008 when it was surpassed by Toyota. Today, Buick is GM's entrylevel luxury brand and one of the auto industry's oldest nameplates.

After selling his interest in his company, David Buick became involved in a series of unsuccessful oil, real estate, and automotive ventures. He eventually returned to Detroit, where he worked menial jobs before his death in 1929 of colon cancer. He was 74 years old

Kentucky Facts and Trivia

March 5, 1864, General John C. Breckinridge took control of Confederate forces in the Appalachian Mountains of western Virginia. The native Kentuckian was a former U.S. Senator, U.S. Vice President and runner-up to Abraham Lincoln in the 1860 presidential election. Breckinridge took over the obscure Western Department of Virginia, where he managed forces until he was elevated to the Confederacy's secretary of war in the closing weeks of the Civil War. Born January 16, 1821 in Lexington, Ky., Breckinridge practiced law, served in the military during the Mexican War and was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives at age 30. In 1856, at age 35, Breckinridge became the youngest person elected U.S. Vice President under President James Buchanan. In the 1860 presidential election, Breckinridge represented the southern wing of the Democratic Party, which had split during the convention over the slavery issue. He finished third in the popular vote behind Lincoln and Stephen Douglas, who represented the northern Democrats. With 72 electoral votes, Breckinridge finished second behind Lincoln in electoral voting. Although he lost the White House, the Kentucky Legislature selected him as U.S. Senator shortly after the election. During the summer of 1861, Breckinridge remained in the Senate, supporting seccessionists' views as the war escalated. In September, Kentucky declared itself a Union state. Having literally become a man without a country, Breckinridge fled the Confederacy and joined the army. He was made commander of the so-called Orphan Brigade, a collection of Kentucky regiments with soldiers who found themselves geographically cut off from their native state. His unit suffered significant casualties at the Battle of Shiloh in Tennessee in April 1862, but went on to fight in most of the battles in the Western theater. After taking control of the Western Department of Virginia, Breckinridge led forces at the Battle of New Market in May 1864, where his army routed a Union force. In October, troops in his department were victorious at the Battle of Saltville, but the victory was tarnished when the confederates began killing black soldiers during the Union retreat. Breckinridge also served during Jubal Early's 1864 Shenandoah

After the fall of Richmond, Breckinridge ensured the preservation of Confederate military and governmental records. He then fled to Cuba, Great Britain, and finally, to Canada. In exile, he toured Europe from August 1866 to June 1868. When President Andrew Johnson extended amnesty to all former Confederates in late 1868, he returned to Kentucky, but resisted all encouragement to resume his political career. Issues from war injuries sapped his health, and after two operations, he died on May 17, 1875 at age 54 in Lexington.

John C. Breckinridge was the only son of six children born to Joseph "Cabell" and Mary Clay Smith Breckinridge. His mother was the daughter of Samuel Stanhope Smith, who founded Hampden-Sydney College, and the granddaughter of John Witherspoon, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. John C.'s father was appointed Kentucky Secretary of State just prior to his birth and later moved with Governor John Adair to the Governor's Mansion in Frankfort. His grandfather Breckinridge, also named John, served in the U.S. Senate and as Attorney General under President Thomas Jefferson. John C. attended Transylvania University and Centre College.

COMBINED NOTICE NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON THE ENVIRONMENTAND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

Date of Publication: Thursday, February 28, 2013

Clinton County, 100 Cross Street, Albany, Kentucky, 42602 — 606-387-5234

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS, AND PERSONS:

On or about March 15, 2013, Clinton County Fiscal Court will request the Kentucky Department for Local Government to release Federal funds under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the Ewing Branch Bridge Proj-

The purpose of the project is to construct a new wider and more elevated bridge on Ewing Branch Road. The project will benefit everyone living on Ewing Branch Road and traveling on Ewing Branch Road by providing a more safe and reliable bridge less prone to becoming impassible during flooding episodes.

This project is located in Clinton County, Kentucky. Census Tract #9702.02.

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of human environment and, accordingly, the Clinton County Fiscal Court has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL-91-190).

Based on information provided by local, state and federal agencies consulted as part of the environmental review process, there will be no significant negative environmental impacts as a result of this project. The project will enhance the transportation system in Clinton County.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the Clinton County Fiscal Court which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at the Clinton County Courthouse in the County Judge-Executive's office during regular business hours. For other viewing options, call 606-387-5234 conducted prior to the request for release of federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Clinton County Fiscal Court to the office of County Judge-Executive, Lyle Huff. Such written comments should be received at 100 Cross Street, Suite 115, Albany, KY 42602 on or before March 15, 2013. All such comments so received will be considered and the Clinton County Fiscal Court will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the proceeding sentence.

The Clinton County Fiscal Court will undertake the project described above with Community Development Block Grant funds from the Kentucky Department for Local Government under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The Clinton County Fiscal Court certifying to the state that the Clinton County Fiscal Court and Lyle Huff in his official capacity as County Judge-Executive consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval the Clinton County Fiscal Court may use the Block Grant funds and the state and HUD will have satisfied their responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The state will accept an objection to its approval only if it is on one of the following bases:

- (a) The certification was not in fact executed by the County's Certifying Officer.
- (b) The County has filed to make one of the two findings pursuant to S58.41 or to make the written determination decision required by SS578.57, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project, as
- Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an EA.
- (d) No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800. (e) The recipient has committed funds or incurred costs not
- authorized by this part before release of funds and approval of the Environmental Certification by HUD or the State.
- (f) Objections have been made by a federal agency.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedures (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Kentucky Department for Local Government, 1024 Capital Center Drive, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the state. No objection received after April 1, 2013 will be considered by the state.

I, Jim Elmore County Clerk of Clinton County certify this to be a true and correct copy of the 2012 of the 2012 receipts and disbursements for the Clinton County Clerk.

Floodplain and Wetland Notice of Explanation Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain

This is to give notice that the Clinton County Fiscal Court under 24 CFR Part 58 has conducted an evaluation as required by [Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990], in accordance with HUD regulations BANK OF AMERICA, N.A. at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management, to determine the potential affect that its project in the floodplain and wetland will have on the human environment for Ewing Branch Bridge Repair Project under CDBG 11D-015. The proposed project is located off Kentucky Highway 1576 on Ewing Brach Road in Albany, Clinton County. This project will remove the current bridge that was damaged by flood waters in 2010 and replace it with a wider and more elevated bridge that will help mitigate flooding episodes in the future. The new bridge will feature a safer guard rail and will increase the width of the bridge to 16' wide. This project is located in Zone A of the 100 year floodplain, however this project will have no adverse effect on the floodplain.

The Clinton County Fiscal Court has considered the following alternatives and mitigation measures to be taken to minimize adverse impacts and to restore and preserve natural and beneficial values: All necessary floodplain permits will be in place according to state and federal regulations. Floodplain information is derived from FEMA Flood Insurance Map dated August 19, 1986, Community Number/ Panel Number 210327 0100 B.

This project will conform to all applicable floodplain regulations set forth by either state or federal agencies. Failure to implement this project would be detrimental to the transportation needs of the citizens along Ewing Branch Road especially during flash flooding and flooding episodes.

The Clinton County Fiscal Court has re-evaluated the alternatives to building in the floodplain and has determined that it has no practicable alternative. Environmental files that document compliance with steps 3 through 6 of [Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990], are available for public inspection, review and copying upon request at the times and location delineated in the last paragraph of this notice for receipt of comments. This activity will have no significant impact on the environment for the following reasons:

Best management practices will be followed to insure no negative

Written comments must be received by the Clinton County Fiscal Court at the following address on or before Monday, March 18, 2013: Clinton County Fiscal Court, 100 Cross Street, Suite 115, Albany, KY 42602 and 606-387-5234, Attention: Lyle Huff, County Judge-Executive, during the hours of 8:00 am—4:00 pm. Thanks

The family of Ann Parrish would like to express their deepest thanks to everyone who offered support in our time of loss. We appreciate the cards, flowers, gifts, food, prayers and words of comfort offered by so many people who knew and loved Ann. We would like to offer a special thanks to the entire staff of Campbell-New Funeral Home for their help in providing a beautiful service, Bro. Harvey Dicken, Bro. Ronnie Bernard and Bro. Ernest Mann for the words of comfort and support, Dr. Peddicord and staff for caring for Ann, Amanda Fitzgerald and Terry Murphy for the beautiful songs, and pallbearers Joe Pete Staton, Jordan Staton, Charles David Dick, Dustin Lowhorn, Mark Bell, Chris Smith, Matthew Dick, and Jonathan Dick. We thank everyone who showed support for our family during the loss of such a special wife, mother, sister, grandmother and friend. God bless and thank you all.
